is a vibrant, creative spirit whose contagious enthusiasm motivates and empowers. Her background is diverse. Her mission is always the same: to inspire integrity, playfulness and the reach for higher aims.

Since beginning her career, Tenaj has been creating workshops, publications and products that awaken the best in people, increase environmental carefulness and promote interdependence. Her genius, which began as an gifted educator, has evolved into a powerful mixture of proactive thinking, accessible ideas and global well-being. Tenaj is a process-oriented, solution-driven idea person whose ability to align passion and practicality is both remarkable and inspiring

Whether she's designing a book, leading a prosperity workshop, a dance through foot baths of colour or creating a high-profile merchandising event – her talent for crafting dreams into reality, is astounding.

So far, Tenaj has a line of self-checking educational toys; an early education video series; 2 eco-friendly children's books; Do-it-Yourself Crisis Survival; a national Canadian periodical; numerous award-winning special events; seminars and workshops for libraries, cable tv, conferences and shopping centres to her credit. What she values most though, is her reputation for shepherding human aspirations.

Tenaj's current work includes designing and delivering adult workshops; Being Unlimited product development and redesigning her inventor husband's alternative energy books.

In her spare time, Tenaj works on her IdeOz Castle project. This eagerly anticipated foundation is intended as an educational energy centre, creative incubator and gathering place for transformational leadership.
